Be detailed in your answers (and use complete, grammatically correct English sentences). In addition to answering the questions, give your reasoning for each answer.

3. What is the difference between morality and ethics?
6. Two people are debating the morality of a particular action. Person A explains why he believes the action is wrong. Person B disagrees with Person A. Her response to him is “That’s your opinion.” Person B has not made a strong ethical argument. Why not?
8. What is the many/any fallacy? Invent your own example of this fallacy.
9. What is the equivalence fallacy? Invent your own example of this fallacy.
17. What is the difference principle?
26. Evaluate the four scenarios in Section 2.1 from a Kantian perspective:
 - A. Unauthorized computer use (Scenario 1)

B. E-mail blacklisting(Scenario 2)

C. Speeding cameras (Scenario 3)

D. Buggy software (Scenario 4)
